best work, students are expected to demonstrate a high energy level, be proud of their efforts and have an overall sense of purpose.

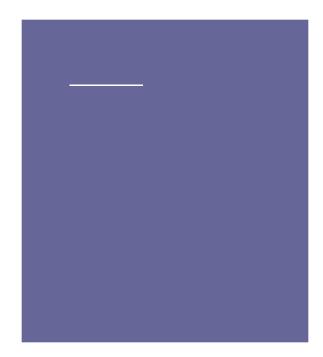

Students will recognize that the success can depend on how we interact and cooperate with one another and should also demonstrate a positive "can do" attitude. Students will also recognize that a collaborative effort is better than an individual one and actively search for ways to involve the expertise of others to solve challenges and remain friendly, courteous.

Students should ask themselves what they can do to help their Host, colleagues and themselves and actively look for opportunities to develop relationships, assist coworkers and are encouraged to develop decision making experiences and judgment.

Students will be eager to participate and to share their thoughts to group activities.

• Students will utilize the Host's resources with the same mindfulness that they would use to conserve their own and to take pride in providing quality work using modest costs and time.
